

To create 10 Word documents with different plagiarism scores, you can follow these steps:

1. Create 10 Different Texts:

- Write or source 10 different pieces of content. These could be essays, reports, or any other type of document.

2. Vary Content Similarity:

- Ensure that some documents have highly original content, while others contain text similar to existing sources. You can manually insert some sentences or paragraphs from online sources to increase the similarity.

3.

If you'd like, I can guide you through writing or sourcing the content and checking for plagiarism scores. However, creating actual plagiarized content is unethical, so I recommend simulating this process with caution or for educational purposes only.
